Choose a branch to merge into Winter2022

The screenshot shows the GitHub Desktop application interface. The main window displays a list of branches under the current repository 'mcc_tools_tech'. The 'Winter2022' branch is selected as the current branch. A large green callout bubble with a blue outline is positioned over the 'Winter2022' branch entry, containing the text 'Click Current Branch and choose a branch to merge into'. A blue arrow points from the bottom right of the callout towards the branch name 'Winter2022' in the list. The application's menu bar at the top includes options like File, Edit, View, Repository, Branch, Window, and Help. The system tray at the top right shows various icons for battery, signal, and system status. The dock at the bottom contains icons for various Mac OS X applications such as Mail, Finder, and Safari.

This indicates the branch is up to date

The screenshot shows the GitHub Desktop application interface. At the top, it displays the current repository as 'mcc_tools_tech' and the current branch as 'Winter2022'. A notification at the top indicates an update is available. Below this, there are tabs for 'Changes' (which is selected) and 'History', with a note that '0 changed files' were found. A prominent modal window titled 'Merge into Winter2022' is open, listing various branches and their last update times. The 'upstream/Winter2022' branch is highlighted with a blue bar at the bottom of the list, accompanied by a green checkmark icon. A message below the list states 'This branch is up to date with upstream/Winter2022'. At the bottom of the modal is a blue button labeled 'Create a merge commit'. In the background, there are sections for 'Summary (required)', 'Description', and a placeholder for 'Commit to Winter2022'. A large green speech bubble with a blue outline points from the bottom left towards the 'Merge into' dialog, containing the text 'This indicates the branch is up to date'.

An updated version of GitHub Desktop is available.

A screenshot of the GitHub Desktop application window. The title bar shows 'GitHub Desktop' and the current repository 'mcc_tools_tech'. The 'Branch' dropdown is set to 'Winter2022'. The main interface shows a sidebar with project files like 'Handouts', 'login_MYakav', 'README.md', 'revealjs', etc., and a 'Week04-Tours' folder containing 'art' and 'Homework' subfolders. In the center, under the 'Changes' tab, there is one change: a file named 'Elizabeth Harris - Homework (week 4).pptx' from the 'Homework' folder. A large green callout bubble points to this file with the text 'The new file now appears on your GitHub desktop'. Below the file listing, it says 'This binary file has changed.' and 'Open file in external program.'. At the bottom, there's a commit message input field with 'Create Elizabeth Harris - Homework (week 4).pptx' and a 'Commit to Winter2022' button. The status bar at the bottom of the window shows system icons like battery level, signal strength, and volume.
