Commit to Winter2022

This indicates the branch is up to date

The screenshot shows the GitHub Desktop application interface. At the top, it displays the current repository as 'mcc_tools_tech' and the current branch as 'Winter2022'. A notification at the top indicates an update is available. Below this, there are tabs for 'Changes' (which is selected) and 'History', with a note that '0 changed files' were found. A prominent modal window titled 'Merge into Winter2022' is open, listing various branches and their last update times. The 'upstream/Winter2022' branch is highlighted with a blue bar at the bottom of the list, accompanied by a green checkmark icon. A message below the list states 'This branch is up to date with upstream/Winter2022'. At the bottom of the modal is a blue button labeled 'Create a merge commit'. In the background, there are sections for 'Summary (required)', 'Description', and a placeholder for 'Commit to Winter2022'. A large green speech bubble with a blue outline points from the bottom left towards the 'Merge into' dialog, containing the text 'This indicates the branch is up to date'.

An updated version of GitHub Desktop is available.
